

LEDERLE TO PUSH SOFT-COAL FIGHT

Health Commissioner Says
Factories Will Be Brought Into Line as Was the Elevated Road.

Triumphant in his fight against the use of bituminous coal on the Manhattan "L" road, Health Commissioner Lederle announced to-day that he would turn his attention to the use of soft coal by factories, hotels and apartment-houses.

"Soft coal can be had in New York and it must be used," said the Commissioner. "We will accept no excuses from any one. The law against the use of soft coal will be enforced against every one."

Supplementing Dr. Lederle's statement, Assistant Corporation Counsel Cosby, who is assisting the Commissioner in the fight against soft coal, said: "It is not the fault of the people of New York that there is a scarcity of coal, nor can they prevent the rise in price. Consequently they shall not be made to suffer. The expense of paying an exorbitant price does not fall upon the poor people; it falls upon manufacturers and corporations which are well able to stand it, and thus there is no reason why we should be lenient. Coal can be had, if not in Pennsylvania, in Wales."

"Manufacturers are coming in here every day to complain against the civil actions which are being brought against them and asking us to cancel them. They say they cannot get coal. I tell them merely that there is a good deal of hard coal in New York and more in Wales. Conditions are improving, but we shall see that they improve still more. As a result of the clouds of soft-coal smoke which have for weeks been pouring from the city's stacks the city buildings have sustained serious and permanent injury. It must stop."

Gilbert L. Herbert, coal agent for the Manhattan Railway Company, made the statement yesterday that he had ordered five or six barrels of Welsh anthracite from Cardiff for experimental use on the elevated. If it proves suitable, Mr. Herbert says, a large order will be ordered at once. It can be delivered on this side for about $5 a ton, which is considerably less than the price now being paid for some cargoes of anthracite coal.

Not knowing work had been found for him and despondent because he had lost a position, he held for many years, Henry Frohntz committed suicide by inhaling illuminating gas in his home, No. 24 Eighth street, Hoboken, yesterday morning. On a table was a letter from his old employer offering him a job.

J. HAMPTON MISSING.
William J. Hampton, twenty-eight years old, 5 feet 4 inches high, of medium build with fair complexion, sandy hair, blue eyes, sandy Van Dyke beard and mustache, wearing blue serge suit and black derby hat and black lace shoes, was last seen on June 19, when he left his home at No. 31 Terhune avenue, Jersey City. His disappearance was reported to the Jersey City police.

Hampton, of No. 313 West street, this city, was suffering from a carcinoma on the back of his neck.

STORY OF DYING MAN IMPROVED.

Dolan, Who Said He Was
Mortally Hurt in a Thief
Chase, Was Not a Regular Pinkerton Detective.

The story of Edward Dolan, who was found with every bone in his body broken in the area between the five-story tenements at No. 796 and 798 Ninth avenue yesterday, and died later in the hospital, has been disproved. He said he was a Pinkerton detective and had fallen from the roof chasing a thief.

Dolan was not regularly connected with the Pinkerton Agency. He was, it is alleged, who was known as a "stool pigeon" and occasionally sold information concerning thieves. He told Police Detective Vanney, who found him, that he had chased a man up the stairs of No. 796 to the roof and had fallen in trying to leap across the four-foot space between No. 796 and No. 798.

Tenants in the house at No. 796 say they noticed Dolan in the street yesterday afternoon. Two women saw him enter the house and walk leisurely up the stairs. There was no thief chase, and what caused his presence on the roof—if he reached the roof—is a matter of conjecture.

Dolan lived with his wife and two children at No. 144 West End avenue. Mrs. Dolan said to-day that he was a plumber up to nine months ago, when he told her he had secured a place as a Pinkerton detective. He was away from home a good deal, but furnished plenty of money for the support of his family.

J. P. GRACE IS WORSE.
Condition of Ex-Mayor's Stricken Son Not Encouraging.

Drs. Wellman and Keyes, who are in attendance at the bedside of Joseph P. Grace, son of ex-Mayor W. P. Grace, who is ill of typhoid at his father's home, in Great Neck, said to-day that the condition of the young man was less encouraging.

His temperature was higher this morning.

M'COY'S CASE CRITICAL.
Little Hope for the Man Shot by Jerome Detective.

Bellevue Hospital physicians report as critical the condition of James McCoy, who was shot in the Sherman House raid by County Detective McEllen. There seems little hope for his recovery.

Wake Up With It Gone.
If you've a hurt, any kind, anywhere, wet well a cloth with Electrozone and apply it to the spot. In most cases 'twill stop the pain at once. Wet the cloth again just before you get into bed, and in the morning you'll wake up and find the hurt much less of a hurt or most likely no hurt at all. A big hurt doesn't cure so quickly as a little hurt, but of whatever kind will cure it. Electrozone is a great household remedy. It ought to be in the house ready for the burns, scalds, cuts, bruises, etc., that are sure to come and that never give you warning.

ELECTROZONE

Bank Clerk's Young Wife Alone Clings to Belief that He Is Alive.

RICHARD GROVES AND WIFE.

Friends of Richard H. Groves, the clerk of the Bank of New York, who has been missing since last Sunday, have come to the conclusion that he is dead. His young wife alone believes that he is alive and ill in some hospital unable to declare his identity or communicate with her.

Young Mrs. Groves resents the remark of her father-in-law that her husband probably left home on account of some slight family trouble. She says her husband had his two weeks' pay and went to work at the bank last Sunday afternoon, and her theory is that he met with foul play. She does not think that he would desert her, as she declares there was never the slightest disagreement between them. She says her husband was in good health and lively spirits when he left home last Sunday.

DIAMONDS SAME AS CASH.

Wedding Rings Not Wearing Apparel and Not Exempt.

COLUMBUS, O., June 21.—In the bankruptcy case of Hannah Levy, of Cleveland, the Federal Court yesterday held that diamonds cannot be considered as wearing apparel, but must be regarded as the equivalent of cash.

Mrs. Levy sought to retain possession of certain diamonds, among them an engagement and wedding ring, on the ground that they were wearing apparel.

Real Estate.
I Wonder What Wood, Harmon & Co. Have to Say This Week?

We haven't been trumpeting much about results at Brooklyn's Harlem—we don't rush into print with every sale made, but we're saying word right along—an average of nearly ten thousand dollars' worth every day—a hundred thousand the past week—nearly half a million altogether thus far. A good, steady, healthy activity. Sales are on the increase—do you wonder why? Come and see. Take a quick run in one of our private automobiles through the best parts of Brooklyn, including its "Harlem" section.

These automobile excursions are becoming more and more popular as they become better known, and will constitute an attractive feature of our Summer business. We wonder how many people have any idea of the beauty of Brooklyn's suburban development, or of the rapidity with which it is growing.

Have you ever taken an exhilarating automobile spin through the parks and boulevards and finest residential portions of the borough? If not, 'twill be an eye-opener, and well repay you for a couple of hours' time. Each afternoon at 2 o'clock one or more of our large double automobiles will leave the New York end of the Brooklyn Bridge and make the round trip, free of cost to all who wish to see Brooklyn's Harlem with a view to buying. If found all we claim.

After stopping at the property we shall be glad to entertain customers with a dinner at Manhattan Beach, and Pail's fireworks later.

We will say frankly that we do not want you to go simply for a pleasure trip, if you have no interest in investigating our own beautiful property, for it will soon be difficult to accommodate the increasing numbers who are taking advantage of these "business outings."

For this reason, also, it will be necessary to make application in advance. Bookings may be made at either of our offices, in person or by mail, giving the day most convenient for you to go; or drop us a postal first for route and all particulars.

Remember, $10 is the only first payment, whatever priced lots you select—and you can buy from $350 up to $10 per month till paid for. Remember, too, that present prices will not last long, as values are increasing every day. Those who buy now will receive the full benefit of the advance. To-day is your opportunity.
